

Selling a product consumers can touch or hold in their hands can often be a much easier type of business to operate, but services play an extremely vital role in both the economy and making life easier for everyone who utilizes them. So even though what we purchase can be intangible in some circumstances, we know that turning to a pro when we need our taxes done or our dog's toenails clipped will always yield far better results than going the DIY route.

Get in touch with your wilder side by transforming your skin into a canvas for the skilled artists at Dolls House of Ink, a woman-owned business and winner of this year's Best Tattoo/Piercing Shop. Get nearly any body part pierced or adorned with an image or text that conveys a specific concept to the world, or something so private that only you know its symbolism in your own life.
